This project came about following a side meeting of the SCN in March 2006 at which it was agreed that there was a need to develop a unified training package for addressing nutrition in emergencies at country and regional levels. UNICEF, FAO, WHO and UNHCR subsequently participated in a workshop on Capacity Development for Enhancing Interagency Nutrition Programming in April, 2006 and presented the outcome of this to the Nutrition Cluster in July 2006 at which the cluster adopted the concept of an integrated unified common training package. Many of the international non-governmental agencies also became involved in the project at this stage and along with the UN agencies, have participated fully in the project.

The project was undertaken on behalf of the IASC Global Nutrition Cluster by NutritionWorks, a partnership of UK based international public nutritionists Carmel Dolan, Jeremy Shoham and Fiona Watson. Carmel Dolan was responsible for overall project management and co-ordination.

The IASC Nutrition Cluster's Capacity Development Working Group (CDWG) oversaw the project and provided feedback on project activities. The chair of the CDWG, Flora Mulder-Sibanda of UNICEF is warmly thanked for providing regular support on all aspects of the project's development. Maina Muthee is also thanked for assisting with co-ordination.

The modules were written, reviewed and edited by a number of people from a wide range of organisations as shown in the list below. The considerable efforts and support of all those involved is greatly appreciated.
