

Addressing the hunger-poverty nexus: what policy coherence means for the 2030 Agenda.

12 July 2017, 18:15 - 19:30

Venue: Conference Room 6 in the UN Conference Building, New York.

Achieving Food Security requires integrated policy making across multiple policy areas. The 2030 Agenda recommends this be done by promoting policy coherence for sustainable development (PCSD - SD17:14). This session draws on the extensive experience of the Committee on World Food Security (CFS) as well as on research done by the European Centre for Development Policy Management (ECDPM) to illustrate the importance of promoting policy coherence and lessons learnt on how this can be done.

Moderation:

H.E Annika Lindblom, Secretary-General of the Finnish National Commission on Sustainable Development

Speakers:

- H.E. Ambassador Amira Gornass, Chair of the Committee on World Food Security (CFS),
Permanent Representative of the Sudan to FAO
- James Mackie, Head of Learning & Quality Support at ECDPM
- Fabien Tondel, Policy Officer in ECDPM's Economic and Agricultural Transformation Programme

There will be time for discussion and questions.
