The United Nations Standing Committee on Nutrition (UNSCN), the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and the Global Nutrition Report (GNR) are pleased to invite you to attend the online satellite launch of the 2020 Global Nutrition Report.

As ever, the 2020 GNR presents the most comprehensive picture of the state of nutrition at the global, regional and country level, and tracks progress against global nutrition targets and the commitments made to reach them. Uniquely, the 2020 report focuses on equity and unpacks the role of inequities in tackling malnutrition. It does this in recognition of the ways in which malnutrition affects different people in different ways, depending on factors such as income, location, sex and age. Through this lens, the 2020 GNR reveals the challenges and opportunities for improving nutrition outcomes through food and health systems, supported by strong financing and accountability.

This online event will bring together key stakeholders from across the various Rome-based agencies in an active and engaging discussion around the latest GNR's data, messaging and recommendations. The event will focus on nutritional inequities, examining synergies between the GNR's own findings and the UNSCN's periodic review UNSCN Nutrition #43 that extensively explored equity in food systems.
